

Subscription Licensing

Fast & easy software licensing from a trusted name

When you obtain OPEN SYSTEMS® Accounting Software (OSAS®) through Subscription Licensing, you'll receive a complete solution immediately without paying the total cost up front. It also assures that your system can be easily, continuously updated and therefore never obsolete.

This payment option allows you to rent your software over an extended period of time through low monthly payments. Although you will not own the software license under this plan, you can continue to receive the benefits of using the software for as long as payments are made.

Subscription Licensing is cost-effective; it allows you to maximize your software investment and get your business started on a technology proven solution at an affordable price.

Because of the low monthly payments, you can add additional applications or users to make your system more efficient. You can also leverage your cash for use in your business rather than having it tied up in infrastructure.

You will always have access to the latest version since the Continuous Enhancement Subscription (CES) is included.

OSAS Subscription Pricing

(per month rental option)

Examples:

20 users, 10 applications	$877/month
8 users, 5 applications	$399/month
64 users, 12 applications	$1839/month

Subscription Licensing Frequently Asked Questions

What OSAS software products are available on a subscription basis?

All applications offered by Open Systems.

How does invoicing work?

A setup charge equal to one month's fee, plus an amount representing the first month and the final month's subscription license fee is due in advance. Monthly invoices will be issued by Open Systems thereafter. Invoices are due by the first of the month. Credit card or ACH are the preferred methods of payment.

What benefits can I expect from obtaining software on a subscription basis?

- You will receive a complete solution immediately. By agreeing to pay on a monthly basis, you are able to receive the entire solution without paying the total cost up front, therefore reducing the total cost of obtaining the solution.
- Subscription Licensing is cost-efficient, offering a technology proven solution at an affordable price.
- Because of the low monthly payments, you can add additional applications or users to make your system more efficient. You can also leverage your cash for use in your business rather than having it tied up in infrastructure.
- You will always have access to the latest version and all fixes, since the Continuous Enhancement Subscription (CES) is included.

What if I decide I want to purchase the software?

You may terminate your subscription agreement at any time by purchasing the software.

Are there any tax benefits to Subscription Licensing?

Yes, you may deduct your monthly subscription payment as an operating expense, thus reducing the net cost of Subscription Licensing. Please consult your tax advisor for details.

How do I qualify, and how do I apply?

Qualification is automatic. Contact your Authorized OSAS Reseller or Open Systems, Inc. to apply.